

The Needham Bank Main Office Renovation Phase Three – Updated October 11, 2007

WE are delighted to announce that our construction project has reached a major milestone! We have moved into the newly renovated space located at the corner of Eaton Court and Great Plain Avenue.

Those of you who have visited us during September have entered the bank through a new temporary entrance from the parking lot. This entrance, as well as our new front entrance (shown below) brings you into the dramatic new area (atrium) that connects the two buildings.

While we are renovating the area where our old teller line was located, a new temporary teller line has been created in the space mentioned above. The customer service representatives have also been relocated to this area. It is our hope that customers will experience no inconvenience during this project.

Work has begun on the original Needham Cooperative building. The schedule indicates that we will move into this permanent customer service space in late November. The entire renovation will be complete around the end of the year (quite a Holiday gift).

If you have any questions or concerns, please direct them to any bank employee. More than one customer has asked for the paint specifications of our wall paint.
